1.1 Enterprise Root Certificate Authority

The following section provides detailed information about the Enterprise Root Certificate Authority (CA) configuration and operational status.

CA Name	pharmax-SERVER-DC-01V-CA
Server Name	SERVER-DC-01V
Type	Enterprise Root CA
Config String	Server-DC-01V.pharmax.local\pharmax-SERVER-DC-01V-CA

Health Check:

Security Best Practice: Auditing should be fully enabled for the Certification Authority to ensure that all relevant events are logged for security monitoring and incident response purposes. This includes events related to certificate issuance, revocation, and changes to CA configuration.

1.2 Enterprise Subordinate Certificate Authority

The following section provides detailed information about Enterprise Subordinate Certification Authorities within the domain.

1.3 pharmax-SERVER-DC-01V-CA Details

1.3.1 Certificate Validity Period

The following section provides certificate validity period configuration for the Certification Authority.

CA Name	pharmax-SERVER-DC-01V-CA
Server Name	Server-DC-01V.pharmax.local
Validity Period	2 Years

1.3.3 Cryptography Configuration

The following section provides detailed information about the cryptography configuration settings for the Certification Authority, including algorithms, providers, and key specifications.

CA Name	pharmax-SERVER-DC-01V-CA
Server Name	SERVER-DC-01V
PublicKey Algorithm	RSA
Hashing Algorithm	SHA256
Provider Name	Microsoft Software Key Storage Provider

Alternate Signature Algorithm	No
Provider Is CNG	Yes

1.3.8 Key Recovery Agent Certificate

This section provides details about the Key Recovery Agent certificate, which encrypts users' certificate private keys for storage in the CA database. If a user loses access to their certificate private key, the Key Recovery Agent can recover it when key archival was configured for the certificate.
